DANGERS AND POSSIBILITIES OF IRISH TELEVISION

Outlined By Eamonn Andrews

Full Text Of Gormanston Lecture

The dangers and possibilities that lie ahead of Irish television were outlined by Mr. Eamonn Andrews, chairman of the Irish Television Authority, when he delivered the opening lecture at the ninth annual Summer School of the Social Study Conference in the Franciscan College, Gormanston. The theme of the deliberations was "The Challenge of Television."

and I've read Newton Minnow's sion-to the annual Convention of Broadcasters. I've spoke with Bishop Fulton Sheen and I've asked my mother why she looks at Juke Box over again. I realised it was no use pounds is probably less than a sixth hiding behind a quotation from Pope of what for instance the B.B.C. spent Pius. Since you're all interested in on one building for its television the subject you've probably read the centre without personnel or equip-Encyclical, anyway. It was no use ment or programmes.

having been savaged by three indig- give to any one network, nant dog owners. I now place dogs ahead of Irish television.

Let me list them for you without order of priority: Public morals, Irish language, rural communities, family life, censorship, emigration, juvenile delinquency, education and tradition. I don't know how many more chance, tolevision will be presented by someone somewhere either as a cure for or a cause of pride, envy, gluttony, sloth, and the chapped hands Mrs. Murphy gets from wash-

ITS PURPOSE

7N,2

STLE

-takers

07.TOST

Worn

So let me tell you right away what to bring brightness and laughter and music into the homes of Irishmen and women. I think it's here to steal away the cares that sometimes crowd around as at the end of a day's work. I think it's here to stimulate us, and refresh us and show us something of the wonders we often miss in this exciting world of ours. I think it's here to help us if we want help, to teach us if we want teaching, to bore us if we deserve boring, I don't think its purpose is to match souls down to hell or to re-who relate the imagined effect of you?

Mr. Andrews said:—All this week my best friends have been telling me. They've told me to be careful, They've told me to be courageous. They we told me told they we told they we told they we told me told they They've told me to tell you the usual Protestants and Presbyterians, by the the second best. facts. And they've told me to offer Jewish community and by all who Despite three separate setbacks you the usual bromides. So all in all have given us values and set us stan- beyond our control, we still hope to I'm just as confused as I must have dards we must preserve. And I'm get on the air before the end of this been in the first place to have sceptical of people who preach how year. Certainly we will not want for accepted this invitation from Michael we must be protected from foreign trying. And although Kippure will

MAMMOTH UNDERTAKING Irish television make no mistake away. about it-is a mammoth undertakmost useless talk you'd ever heard nation a lot of money. It has already they'll travel. cost the nation a lot of money. But It was 24 hours ago I started all bear in mind that even two million tive, objective proposals.

blinding you and boring you with Bear it in mind when you come to I'll promise not to blind you and I'll you would like to see Irish television For a long time I've recognised like to see it doing. Bear it in mind things in the world for anyone in going to make-and we're certainly show pusiness was to judge a baby going to make them. Bear it in mind competition. You can't win. Then a when you come to consider how few weeks ago I judged a dog com- many studios we can afford to build Already we have a brilliant team ahead of babies. But way in front of of young men working on Irish telethem both I place the shark-infested vision. We have a trainee school in Authority Chairmen. So as a possible markable evidence of skill and enstimutus to your future discussions thusiasm. And we have the whole Irish television with Irish people.

BEST MEN FOR JOBS

guide the inexperienced. Some have cent said no. I think is the purpose of television I rish television has been able to call the individual viewer, "A sermon is in Ireland. I think it's here to reflect home some of her sons who would intended as an occasion of God's the smile on the face of the ordinary have lived and died and whose chil- grace; so, too, by intention is any Irishman or woman. I think it's here dren would have lived and died in form of Catholic broadcasting." But when you have to use that so abused identity of the broadcaster. word-"influence." There's a world

It's an unpleasant subject and people don't often talk about it outcorrupt the innocent or to force side protected areas. But I'd rather most of which had an apparent value people to speak Irish who don't mention it now because if the Authoalready have pride enough to want rity or the Director-General or any of his administration could not run hish relevision to other countries I It doesn't mean, of course, that if influences as if the Irish Television be the first transmitter there will be I've looked up the usual books. Authority were composed of sub- no question of sitting back to see action regarding the preservation of versive emissaries from Peking or how it's going before attempting to the countryside was poor. The people I jotted down many of the relevant Moscow or Mars or somewhere. I cover the rest of the country. On the who seemed to be getting most done and vital statistics. I've read Pope welcome people like yourselves who contrary, we are as actively engaged are prepared to sit down and check in preparing provincial coverage as other, despoil the face of Ireland. what it's all about, and having we are in planning the first pictures. address on behalf of the American checked make concrete, construct Within one year - indeed in some cases within far less-of Kippure going on the air the other four transmitters should all be blazing happily less grievous.

Jury. In general - up to 24 hours ing. The complexities are a tangled not be giving a purely metropolitan distinguished spokesmen from the Rural Week, ago-1 was ready to deliver you the net of light and sound, of steel and reflection of Ireland. Our mobile Monaco, Israel and the U.S. had most comprehensive, best best brain, of artistic endeavour and elec- video facilities will be out and about elected to show their friendship for these services in other countries, he researched, most informative and tronic magic. It's going to cost the with no limit but the sea to where Ireland by offering the same words said, but the role of ahe agricultural

> RELIGIOUS PROGRAMMES Many of you-particularly at this conference-will want to know what we are going to do about religion. It is not my province to talk in detail about this. I would make one point only-that, in my opinion, the best badly-sited power stations and fac- dual farmers. The instructor was facis you could research for yourself, think of the kind of programmes religious programmes are those that tories. set out to be something else and I' that the most effective religion or offices, factories and housing on many farms was that the people television is that which comes from that one of the most dangerous when you see the mistakes we are a climate, a thought, a background of philosophy, a reflected way of life, above all, placed where they pro- could live on the same farm at the than from a formalised and frontal

Incidentally-still bearing in mind petition and in the last ten days, and how much any one studio can that we cannot compare a community battle between commercial interests, advisory services were organised to waters occupied by Television progress that has already shown re- give you some facts worth your con- ing these hoardings had multiplied. structors were so fully occupied with

I thought it might be more fruitful operation headed by America's religious programme audience was if I told you-as I see them-the second most famous Bostonian, carried out in the Archdiocese of dangers and the possibilities that lie Edward J. Roth, who has already New York. Without bothering you done what so many thought was im- with too many percentages let me possible-staffed over 90 per cent of tell the most startling aspect of it. In general, what about jobs in testant, and from 64 per cent Catho- confer powers on local authorities agricultural advisory services were Irish television? There are bound to lic to 36 per cent Protestant. Never. not only to control future advertising doing excellent work. The farmers be many disappointed people and we theless, when asked subsequently did of this kind but to secure the re- needed technical help and it was only > said in criticism that to get a job Needless to say there was no way you first must emigrate. Nothing of measuring whether the religious could be farther from the truth; and | broadcaster had got his message eventual statistics will prove it. I home to the viewers or not. No one prefer to think of what a wonderful can estimate the effect of a single thing it is that even in its beginnings programme or gauge its impact on > other distant and not so distant | --- looking at the figures and the figures only-these made some re-Also-and I should not have to sponsible people question the worthsay this-in all cases the best man whileness of the whole effort, parfor the job has got the job. The day | ticularly in cases where insistence on has never existed in Irish television an over-all title and format subwhere you have to know someone, merged to some degree the religious

> It is, of course, essential to reof difference between a recommenda- member that these figures did not tion or a reference and a pressure or refer to special events, the telecasting of liturgical services or the special reporting of significant events in the life of a Catholic community, all or

> > The Irish language. It's a great

IRISH LANGUAGE

langers of television without being at this stage what hope would they many different voices on this subtold, too, of the inviting and exciting have of giving you the service they ject, that so precious a heritage has brutality and the general nastiness, of St. Brigid's Cross prepared by our possibilities. I'm weary of people are solemnly charged with giving been harnessed to so many baser things, that tempers and intemperance should so constantly be assoknow, too, that many will argue as ciated with it, that so many public men are even afraid to talk about it, to what is brutal and what is frank. so certain are they to be misunderstood by someone somewhere. And no subscriber to the view that we Trish are any better or any holier lest I in my turn be misunderstood, let me say here and now that I know than the rest of the world, I think at first hand how it has been har- it goes without saying that we're nessed to too many noble things and not going to show anything that will generous men. Let me quote Presid- corrupt anyone. I for one would be ent John Kennedy who recently said; terrified at the thought of giving "To quarrel over the past is to lose scandal on so enormous a scale. I'd the future." The more I think of that lie awake at night thinking of a the more I feel it applies to Ireland million millstones around my neck. in general and to the Irish language in particular. So long as I am associated with Irish television I deterand if Ireland has decided that Irish some of the other points. I'm not go- retaining the centuries old line but Joseph Fahey, Moneymore, Rathmine it will never lose the future. is part of that future then it will be ing to insult your intelligence by matching all that is modern and molyon, alleging that, at Ballivor on Gypsum Industries Ltd., at Drum- Horses were plentiful with paices right there. Television does not hold offering you an argument on the progressive in modern Ireland. your destiny in its huge electronic good television can do in these hands. You do. And only you can sphere. I can't foresee the future. But decide these things, and it will be I think and believe television will be Brigid did hers. We recognise that was for the defendant, the solemn but happy duty of Irish more of a home-maker than a homebreaker, that rural communities will television to do your bidding. IMMORALITY AND BRUTALITY

Maurice Wiggin in the "Sunday flavour of Irish life. But if you think with culture, a field labourer who immediately. Clubs who have not much sympathy is extended. Follow- who was a playing member of the Times" asked "Is TV Immoral?" differently you're more than entitled promoted art and literature." Please applied for entry forms yet and who ing Requiem Office and High Mass local football team and won a county Father Agnellus Andrew has sparked to your opinion. I just don't happen God, we cowhands and labourers of intend competing should write to in Killallon Church on Friday the senior football medal with the club off the question when he said: "The to agree with you, responsibility for grave evil is heavy What does Irish television want twice as quickly.

NEED FOR GOOD TASTE AND DESIGN

PRESERVATION OF COUNTRYSIDE

RESTRAINT ON OUTDOOR ADVERTISING

So much was said and written these days about the need for good taste and design and the importance of preserving our fine buildings and countryside that a stranger might comment, "With such vigilance Ireland has little cause to worry," said Mr. Aidan O'Hanlon, Bord Failte, when he addressed delegates to the Muintir na Tire Rural Week in St. Patrick's College, Cavan.

and in Oregon a commission is "In the preservation of our countryside and fine buildings, it is better to secure the co-operation of the individual people and organisations concerned than to have to invoke coercive measures," he said. "Influential groups such as Muintir na Tire can shape the minds of others and can achieve a lot by example and

AGRICULTURAL INSTRUCTORS

. Ireland had now reached a stage

structor, Wicklow, who gave a lec-

There was greater specialisation in given a wider and more comprehen-

The situation could be altered only involved in the social aspects of life

Mr. Bolger added that something signs will be permitted.

peaceful persuasion."

The Archbishop of Cashel and case. Emly attended the Rural Week, and Lest anyone say they were unduly was received by Very Rev. M. Mor- sensitive in this matter, Mr. O'Hanrissey, national chairman, Muintir na lon pointed out that recently the Tire; Very Rev. P. Canon Gaffney, President of the U.S. appealed for an President, St. Patrick's College, and intensified effort to keep inter-State by Professor J. Lyons, vice-president, roads free from hoardings; in Cali-Muintir na Tire. His Grace is a for- fornia, owners of bill-boards are mer honorary recording secretary of given a few-years to remove them,

The Bishop of Calibar, Most Rev. selecting scenic areas in which no his native County Cavan, also attended the Rural Week.

In his address Mr. O'Hanlon remarked that in Ireland while sentiments were often lofty the record of were those who, in one way or an-There was invariably no malice in their actions—their only interests where they had a high concentration were profit and convenience - but of graduate agricultural advisers, said the damage they do was none the Mr. Patrick Bolger, agricultural in-

It was no coincidence that within ture on "The Community and the And even in the interval we will the past couple of weeks, he said, Agricultural Advisory Services" at of advice-"keep your country un- instructor as the guide, philosopher spoilt." Time and again other visi- and friend of the farmer was the best tors expressed the same thought; one for this country. The instructor many of them admire longingly in was a general practitioner rather Ireland what were once familiar than a specialist sights in their own countries-graceful architecture and a countryside agricultural instructor merely to pass comparatively free of hoardings and on technical information to indivi-

"Let us have modern buildings, sive term of reference. The problem schemes," he said, "and even adver- made the mistake in thinking that tising signs-but well designed and, two generations of the same family perly belong."

Too often the national interest can slip into second place in a ding-dong by a change in mental outlook. The such as ours, which is predominantly Mr. O'Hanlon continued. It was over help people to help themselves and Catholic, with one where the Catho- a year ago since a major appeal for every consideration must be given to lic group represents a minority- a restraint on outdoor advertising the social background. The position bearing this in mind I would like to was issued, but instead of diminish- at present, however, was that in-The classic example was the road the practical requirements of farmers In 1957 a special survey of the from Dublin Airport, which was fast that they had not become too deeply becoming a billboard alley.

CONTROL AWAITED

He remarked that the trend was real and tangible and worthwhile such that they were anxiously await- must be achieved indisputably as a The sample groups looking at diffe- ing the enactment of the Local Gov- result of the farmers' own efforts. rent programmes varied from 30 per [ernment (Planning and Development) | Mr. J. Lynch, Johnstown, Navan, cent Catholic to 70 per cent Pro- Bill, 1960, which was intended to proposing a vote of thanks, said the are bound to find experienced men they know what religion or denomi- moval of unsightly hoardings. The through these services that they not only to start the service but to nation was represented, over 67 per Minister for Local Government had could obtain that knowledge. Co- 8 proposed to be allowed in either the rural organisations was essential.

They know that it is wrong."

We on the Irish Television Authority know, too, that it is wrong. We |

And although heaven knows I am-

OTHER POINTS

Now what about rural life, agricul-people take their standards from television. If you show them bad The courage to come in front of a behaviour, on the home screen, you camera and speak out what you're Skearke, Mullagh, alleging the use Cabe's parents were natives of Killimplicity condone it. The viewer really thinking and not what you of an untaxed car, was adjourned inkere parish, assumes that what he sees is the think you should be thinking. for a month, current standard of behaviour. The Writers — Television is hungry for girl may come to think that sexual promiscuity is normal and smart. So writers. Experts in almost any field does the boy-and he, further, may you care to mention. And for some House, Cavan, at Longford Agri- alleging failure to produce a driv- and Mrs. Frederick Wilson, Lisgar, get the impression that brutality and the humble acceptance of the fact [toughness are the fashionable, the that, despite the magnitude of their Thursday. obligatory things. This lugubrious message, they're not just good argument smacks of the deepseated enough. Puritanism and hypocrisy of our TV. SYMBOL race, which has long believed that you can suppress vice by refusing to Finally I would like to show you discuss it. But what if that is simply the new symbol for Irish television. true? Certainly, to that minority of It will be the first time it has been parents which tries to instil a decent shown publicly and I hope you like standard of behaviour into its off- it. I am grateful that my colleagues spring, television must be a constant at Radio Eireann thought so much embarrassment. So I must conclude, of this conference that they perunwillingly, that the responsibility mitted me this pleasure that you I'm tired of being told of the Irish television honestly and cleanly sadness to me that we speak with so on the authorities is onerous and should be the first people to see it. urgent to cut out the innuendos, the It is a new treatment on the theme warned that no compensation was operation with Maintir na Tire and isconsesses upon the television authorities." Mr. from you? Patience-Don't expect Wiggin ended his article by saying: it all at once. Honest criticism-we ing an untaxed car. Mr. A. J. offence. "It does seem that a great many will welcome it. Praise-sometimes. Malone, LLB., solicitor, defended. Paying his annual visit to his place at Knockdrin sports and Paddy home. Mr. Finegan has been six Downs. Flanagan (Midlands C.C.), his club- years in America and was last home | mate, P. Doyle, and J. Anderson three years ago. (Bohermeen C.C.) shared the three at Afriboy Court last Thursday, S.C.) with a time of 20 minutes, 37 occupants was hurt. adjourned for a month summonses seconds. against Patrick Lynch, O'Growney | Sister Mary Bridget, Presentation and Mrs. John Finnegan, St. Street on 2nd August and driving home at Anaharnity, Killinkere, with injuries received when he fell while drunk on the same occasion. | Sister of Mr. Gerard Tackney, Ana- from his bicycle on the Kingscourt-

McCarren's Sausages are Delicious

The Don's Cup, for the supreme at Athboy Court last Thursday, Ruth Morrison, Drumfin, Sligo.

An adjournment for a month was less and later was destroyed, granted at Athboy Court last Thursture, education, emigration, and art director, Richard Butterworth- day in a summons against John 4th August, he drove or attempted to mond cross on the main Kingscourt- much higher than in previous We hope Irish television will drive a motor vehicle while drunk. spread its cloak as effectively as St. Mr. A. J. Malone, LLB., solicitor, escaped uninjured but the tractor with Irish dancing, were the main Watergate Street, Navan.

Thirty years ago the horse-drawn barge was still a familiar sight on the inland waterways of Ireland. The dozing angler, stretched out in the reeds by the water's edge, often had scant warning of the danger to his rod from the silently approaching barge. The lockkeeper's children, if they had worked hard at the opening and closing of the lock gates, would be rewarded with a jaunt on the horses' back. Sometimes, when passing through a town, the man at the tiller would be subjected to much banter. Remarks, such as, "Where are you bound for, skipper?" "Bring us back a parrot" were his daily lot, but he took them in good humour and replied with appropriate witticisms.

The Cambridgeshire SWEEPSTAKE

£50,000 TICKETS £I EACH

IRISH HOSPITALS' SWEEPSTAKES, BALLSBRIDGE, DUBLIN 4 BRANCH SWEEP OFFICES AT CORK, SLIGO, GALWAY AND AT 9-11 GRAFTON STREET. DUBLIN 2

SNAPSHOTS

Joseph Gaynor, Reynellan, Brack- | James Smith, Cavan Street, Oldlyn, Clonmellon, was fined 10/- at castle, was fined 5/- at Athboy Athboy Court last Thursday for us- Court last Thursday for a no light

A summons at Athboy Court last relatives in Killinkere is Father lighting offences. Thursday against Joseph Reilly, Ultan McCabe, U.S.A. Father Mc-champion in the cattle section, was struck out a summons against won by Mr. F. A. Crowe, Kilbracken Thomas Fox, Archerstown, Delvin, tween Wallace, second son of Mr. cultural Society's annual show last ing licence.

Dublin, a native of Newport, Co. of Con Carr to win Ballinabrackey Tierworker, Kells. Tipperary, has retired after 39 years | C.C.'s 52 miles massed start cycle | in the force. The last ten he spent race in 2 hours 20 minutes. There United States of Mr. Patrick at Store Street Station. He also were thirty starters. served in Counties Cavan, Monaghan

The marriage arranged between harnity, she has been in India for Bailieboro' road. He is progressing James Brassil, 1 Merchants' Quay, the past fifteen years. Drogheda, and 159 West 228th St., New York, and Noreen McDermott, letons. Kingscourt, escaped with the Church of St. Michael and Portloman, Mullingar, and 55 slight injuries when his motor cycle Martin, Hounslow, Middlesex, of Adrian Avenue, New York, will collided with a horse at Meath Hill Mr. James O'Brien, son of Mr. and take place at St. Kevin's Church, on the main Ardee-Kingscourt road, Mrs. M. O'Brien, Higginstown, Harrington Street, Dublin, on The animal, the property of Mr. Athboy, and Miss Mary Beirae, 6th September.

was extensively damaged. Ireland is fundamentally an agricul- Darts clubs who intend participattural nation and that her strength is ling in the Slainte Mineral Waters gretted death occurred in a Lan- | Rev. A. Trainor, Main Street, find a happy place for television in the soil. And recognising that, cup and trophies competition are cashire hospital, was widow of Mr. Bailieboro', has returned to Sacrawithout breeding a new race of what better description of St. Brigid reminded that the closing date for John Burke, Scurlogstown, Delvin, mento after spending a three month's' What about immorality, brutality, square-eyed, silent monsters and than Alica Curtayne's "She was an entries is near at hand. All entry She is survived by her sons, holiday with his parents, Mr. and the over-frank report? Recently, without losing anything of the intellectual dairymaid, a cowhand forms with cash should be returned daughters and a sister, to whom Mrs. M. Trainor, Father drainor, Irish television will do half as much the secretary, Boyne Darts Club, 27 funeral took place to Delvin in 1957, has been in America for the Cometery.

 Mr, B. Daly, dental surgeon, has changed his address from Market Street to John Street, Kells. William Dugdale, Delvin, was fined £4-10-0 at Athboy Court last Thursday in respect of an untaxed

The engagement is announced between Owen McGuinness, Tully House, Monaghan, and Ellen O'Reilly, formerly of Boolies, Kells, Brian Smith, Rahoney, Athboy, was fined 10/- at the local Court last Thursday in respect of two

Married at the Church of the Three Patrons, Rathgar, Dublin, were Mr. D. McDermott, Austin District Justice D. O Donnchadha, Friars Street, Mullingar, and Miss

The engagement is announced be-Bailieboro', and Ivy, eldest daughter Alan Dillon (Clan Brugha C.C., of Mrs. V. Shekleton and the late Garda Michael Ahern, Clontarf, Dublin) finished 10 lengths ahead Richard Shekleton, Maio House,

The death has taken place in the Weymes, a native of Kinnegad. He Mr. P. F. Finegan, son of Mr. was brother of Very Rev. M. and Mrs. J. T. Finegan, Main St., Weymes, P.P., Glasson, and of the The cycling races took pride of Bailieboro', is spending a holiday at late Mrs. M. B. Judge, N.T., The

Both vehicles were slightly dama: ed when an ice-cream van, dr.v The feature event at Lough Owel by Mr. J. J. Martin, Carrickmacross, events. There was a record entry for S.C. Gala at Mullingar, the Lough and a car driven by Mrs. M. Smith. Owel mile for the Coughlan Cup, St. Mary's Park, Navan, sollided District Justice D. O Donnchadha, was won by C. Hardy (Colmcille near Bailieboro'. None of the

Nicholas Flunegan (10), son of Mr. Street, Athboy, alleging the dan- Order, Pakistan, India, is spending Ernan's Hal, Kingscourt, was removgerous driving of a car at O'Growney a three-months' holiday in her old ed to the Surgical Hospital, Cavan, > satisfactorily. Mr. Patrick Callaghan, c/o Shek- The marriage was solemnised in Francis Martin, received two broken S.R.N., daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

> T. Beirne, Mantua, Co. Roscommon. A tractor driven by Mr. John The attendance at the annual Marron, Corlea, Magheracloone, col- Pattern Fair of Muff was not as lided with a lorry, the property of large as usual due to bad weather. Carrickmacross road. Both drivers years, Open deck dancing, together attractions and the numerous side Mrs. Margaret Burke, whose re- shows were much enjoyed.

