POLICE RAIDS IN MONACHAN AND FER-MANAGH.

During Saturday night and the early hours of Sunday morning two military motor lorries containing a large number of soldiers, with two officers, District-Inspector Egan, R.I.C., Clones, and police, turned up at Clones and visited certain houses in the town, and also in Scotshouse district. A thorough search was made in each case, but nothing was seized, and no arrests were made. The houses searched in Clones were those of carpenter, Abbey street. In Scotshouse district the following houses and premises were searched :- Mr. M'Ginn's,

Many had reached the local police that the local weekly newspapers; also announce barrack was to be attacked that night. Whether such an attack had actually been planned it is impossible to say, but at any rate no evidence of it was forthcoming, nor any suspicious movements observed...

The workshop and premises of Mr Edward Reilly, merchant tailor, Newtownbutler, were on Saturday searched by the police with a view, it is understood, to discovering amongst tailors' clippings a bit of cloth to correspond with a small piece of a man' clothing which they had with them, and which is believed to have been found at Ballytrain after the attack on the barrack there. Their quest, however, was fruitless.

Accompanied by a large force of military, with full trench equipment, the Castleblayney police on Saturday evening visited and searched the houses of Messrs, 'P. J. M'Mahon, Chairman of the U.D.C.; Con Hanly, U.D.C.; Joseph Daly, U.D.C.; Neil M'Shane, John Flanigan, James M'Aviney, and Mrs. Hardy. An exhaustive search was made in each house, but it is stated that nothing of an incriminating nature was

. It is believed the search was for arms and ammunition, in consequence of the Ballytrain affair. There was a large concourse of people in the town, and the police and military were subjected to a Good deal of derisive cheering and boohno untoward incident occurred.
